PROVOST GETS THE STORAGE CONTRACT – Will Put Up Big Buildings for the Eastern Steel Company at Eddystone

William Provost, Jr., the well-known contractor, has received the contract for the big storage building for patterns for the Valentine Engineering company, otherwise known as the Eastern Steel Company. He also gets the work of building the office for the concern. Both structures are very large. Mr. Provost was the successful man among a large number of bidders not only in this city, but in Philadelphia and the various contracts he has received during the past year reflect much credit on his ability as a workman.

McClintock-Marshall Company of Pottstown have been given the contract for the main building which will be of structural steel and will be a very large building. All these structures will go up on the tract in Eddystone purchased some time ago between the Gruson Iron Works and Crum Creek. The company will employ a large number of hands and promises to be one of the most successful concerns of the kind in this section.
